Dear (Hiring Manager's Name),
The first paragraph should contain a self-introduction. You should write who you are, why you're interested in the position, and why you want to apply for the job.
The second paragraph should respond directly to the job description written by the hiring manager. Describe how your previous job experiences, skills, and abilities will allow you to meet the company's needs. To make that easier, you can list (and describe) directly related results and figures from the job description.
You can include a bulleted list of your accomplishments. <ul style="list-style-type: none">A score below with numbers is 100% better than one without.
The third paragraph should reiterate your interest in the company and list a final call to action that outlines what you are looking for from the company and what you can offer them. Explain how you can fit in, and how you will contribute to the company's success. End the letter with a call to action, and help guide the company forward and achieve any goals you suggest they may have.
The final paragraph is called the "call to action" portion of your cover letter. Inform them that you're a go-getter, show them your contact information. Tell them that you'll be in contact with them in a week if you don't hear back. Thank them for spending the time to read your cover letter.
